CIVIL SERVICE REFORM.

The Luague Mooting at Washington Friday.

Washington, Dec 13. The civil service reform league to-day elected all efficiences. The report of the aspecial committee on extension, of which Chadles J. Bonsparte is chairman, showed a greatnumber of additions to the classified service by order or President Cleveland and discussed in considerable length the executive order concerning consular order.

The committee agrees with Secretary Olony's letter to the President to this subject, in which he says the Odershould be considered as in no sense find or exhaustive, but rather as a more step in the right direction. But the committee is of the opicion that a mere accutive order of this kind which could be ignored by a succeeding administration or quarters legislative enactment and the fittings of civil service reforms.

Obar S. Strauss, ex-minister to Turkey, made a verbul report on consular reform, not differing materially in the conclusions from that of the extension committee. At the afternoon session papers were read by Herman Justi, of Nashvilli, Tenn, on the "State of Civil Reform Sendiment in the South," C J Bonsparte, of Baltimore, on the "Relga and Overthrow of the Office Holding Oligarchy," and Herbert Walsh, of Philadelphia, on the "interest of the Worllingmen in Civil Service Reform" after narrowly escaping being wrecked on Harding's ledge. Captein Johdess stated that he sailed from Sherbrooke, N.S., December 5 for Lynn with 110,000 feet of lumber. Bad weather commenced that right. On the passage the decks were constantly swept by heavy seas, causing the vessel to pitch and roll terrioly. Two of the crew were lost while refing sails. Both lived in Nove, Scotia and were unmarried.

With the loss of two members of the crew there were only four men left to work the vessel Captain Lohnes decided to put hito Laffaveito sceare extra men.
Two toen were shipped at that port and the vessel again proceeded on the passage. The weather continued bad and Tuesday a flerer northeaster struck her. The show which accompanied the gale male it impossible to get an observation and under short receded capvas the vessel seuded along, trusting to luck as to where she would bring up. Paul and New York Central system are actually larger than October in spate of emailer November than October carnings. For a time she held securely to the anchors, but constant tugging at the hawsers finally parted one and the remaining anchor was insufficient to hold the little craft and she soon drifted close to the breakersiat Harding Ledge in a very dangerout position. The tug boat June sighted the schooner, which in the meantime had her mainboom broken in allogs, and became badly leed up; and was whelly unmanageable. The tug after hard work towed her from her perilous position and brought her to the upper harbor where she was safely anchored between the farries.

Captain Lobnes has wired the owner for instructions. The repairs necessary, which include new jibboon and mainash, will be mide when the weather moderates and the vessel will be towed to Lynn to dischange her cargo. Neilson Says Efforts for Reform Have Not Met with Result Hopes ant Postmaster General Neilson returned asked with reference to the proposed reasked with reference to the proposed reform in the reception of foreign mails at quarantine and the delivery of the foreign mails to the steamships at New York, and I four efforts with the steamships companies have not neet with the control of the control of the steamships companies for the work they are now doing which we wished to relieve them of was considerable and that they would be willing to contribute this amount to the department in order that this great reform might be established, affecting it it does the intre-country much more than, New York city in purity unit more than, New York city in purity of a fer had to all the larger cities than by the present plan.

Yesterday morning's weather was fully as cold as any yet this season, the temperature ranging from six to ten degrees below zero in various parts of the city in the early hours and the morning was well advanced theore the mercury got up above the freezing mark. The cold spell access to be holding on pretty well, having continued now for nearly a week. Capt Jordan who resides near Swetts Fond in Orrhigton, had a narrow escape from drowning in the river yesterday. He attempted to cross on the ice but had only proceeded a short distance before he broke through and it was only by qu'ck and fortunately directed efforts that he managed to get out and on more goldylee and to shore ugain.
